Holiday Season Shopping Tips

With so many consumer purchases taking place during the holiday season, it is a good time to be particularly mindful of potential scams, security issues and added costs that may impact your online purchases. Below are tips to keep your money safe while making the most of holiday shopping.

- ❖ When shopping online, it is often wise to pay with a credit card instead of a debit card, if possible. Both payment methods allow you to dispute a charge if the merchandise never arrives or is different from what was ordered; however, with a debit card, the purchase is already deducted from your bank account and it may take days or weeks for your bank to reverse the charge.
- ❖ When ordering online, ensure that the web browser has a secure connection before inputting or submitting payment information. In the address bar, a padlock should appear to signify that your session is secure.
- ❖ Some debit and credit card providers offer one-time card numbers to be used for online transactions to further protect their cardholders. Log in to your account or contact your card provider to see if it offers this service.
- ❖ When shopping online there are often additional costs such as shipping and handling. Be sure to account for such additional charges when comparing prices across retailers or when making the choice between an online purchase or an in-store purchase.
- ❖ Keep your receipts and be sure you understand retailers' return policies and periods so you can return any unwanted items for a full refund.
- ❖ Some retailers offer layaway plans or other payment options to allow shoppers to pay for items in installments or at a later date. Before agreeing to such a plan, be sure to ask whether the retailer charges a fee for its program and whether payments and any fees are refundable if the purchase is canceled or returned.
- ❖ When purchasing gift cards, check whether there is an additional activation fee, and provide the activation receipt to the recipient. Additionally, consider the retailer's financial situation before buying a gift card. If the retailer closes or declares bankruptcy, the recipient may not be able to enjoy the card's value.
- ❖ Know that scammers can easily create online retail sites with no intention of shipping ordered products. Consider shopping with retailers you are familiar or with whom you have done business in the past.
- ❖ If shopping with a new retailer, check with the Better Business Bureau at www.bbb.org to determine whether other customers have filed complaints against them.

Tips for Charitable Giving

While the holiday season is a time for kind and generous deeds, scam artists may seek to take advantage of this spirit of giving. Below are tips to help ensure your charitable dollars do the most good this season.

- ❖ Before donating, ensure that the charity is registered and eligible to solicit in the State of Florida. Check to see if the charity is registered with the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services at www.FDACS.gov/ConsumerServices or by calling 1-800-HELP-FLA (1-800-435-7352).
- ❖ Do your homework and review any charitable solicitation carefully. Be sure you understand how much of your donation will actually go toward charitable programs, as opposed to administrative and fundraising expenses. To learn about a registered charity's spending, visit www.FDACS.gov/ConsumerServices and click on "Check-A-Charity" to ensure that its spending aligns with your values. Also, websites like Charity Navigator at www.CharityNavigator.org and GuideStar at www.Guidestar.org assess and evaluate charities by providing information regarding the charity's mission, programs, and finances.
- ❖ Search online to see what others may be saying about a charity. You may also visit www.FDACS.gov/ConsumerServices and use the "Business/Complaint Lookup" tool, check with the Better Business Bureau's Wise Giving Alliance at www.Give.org, or visit www.CharityNavigator.org to determine whether the charity has any complaints against it.
- ❖ Do not give your credit card number or bank account information to someone who has called or emailed you unsolicited. If you are interested in donating to a charity that has contacted you, ask them to mail you information about the charity and a pledge form. Legitimate charities should have no problem with this request.
- ❖ Watch out for similar sounding charities. It is not unusual for sham charities to choose names that sound like the names of legitimate, well-known charities.
- ❖ Know the difference between tax exempt and tax deductible. An organization that is tax exempt does not have to pay taxes, but this does not necessarily mean that a contribution you have made to it is tax deductible. To check whether an organization is eligible to receive tax-deductible contributions, visit <https://apps.irs.gov/app/eos/>.

Protecting Children Online

In this digital age, many of the most popular gifts for children and teens enable them to connect to the internet and communicate with others online. If any of these items are on your holiday shopping list, consider the below tips for setting boundaries on devices and with your children to protect them from potential harm.

- ❖ Enable parental, usage, and privacy controls wherever possible.
  - Gaming systems often have rating restrictions that let parents decide which games can be played based on their ratings, such as “E” for Everyone or “T” for Teen.
  - Some gaming systems may allow parents to restrict online access so children cannot access features like chat rooms or add new friends without parental approval.
  - Consider setting in-game and in-app purchase restrictions on devices so your account cannot be charged without entering a password.
  - Consider enabling time limit controls on devices and within individual apps.
  - Consider turning off location sharing on devices as this may allow the application developer and other users to see a child’s location when connected.
  - Most social networking sites allow users to adjust their privacy settings to restrict who can view a profile. If your children use social media, ensure that their profiles are set to a privacy level you are comfortable with.

- ❖ Teach children not to share personal or identifying information about themselves online, including their full name, age, home address, and school name.

- ❖ Teach children about cyberbullying and to come to you if they witness it or become the target of a cyberbully.

- ❖ Warn children not to download items online without your approval, as these files may contain malware or be inappropriate for them to access.

- ❖ Teach children that they are responsible for their actions online and that things posted on the internet can live on forever.

- ❖ Regularly check what apps children may be using and read the Terms of Service and privacy policy for each.

- ❖ Get to know what websites and games your children are accessing; check them out to ensure they are appropriate and offer proper children’s privacy protections.

- ❖ Set and share rules about appropriate use of a device, such as times it may be used, acceptable apps, and consequences for breaking the rules.

Product Recalls

During this season of joy and giving, it is important to remain vigilant about the safety of the products brought into your home. What follows is a compilation of 2019-2020 U.S. product recalls in an easy-to-use guide that can be used to consult as you give and receive items this holiday season.

This guide reproduces U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission information and details about recalled toys, baby items, sporting and recreational goods, furniture, and household products that are either designed for, or pose a particular risk to, children and teenagers. These items were among the more than 200 products recalled by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission between November 1, 2019, and October 16, 2020. For more information regarding these products or for a comprehensive list of all product recalls, please visit www.CPSC.gov.

Dangerous and defective products are the subject of recalls every year. When a product is recalled, the law requires manufacturers and retailers to remove the products from their shelves. However, products subject to recall sometimes slip by undetected and remain in stores; others may have been purchased before a recall was ever issued. Additionally, many products often continue to be offered for sale through online reseller websites well after a recall has been announced. Therefore, it is always important to do your research to make sure that the products you are buying or bringing into your home are safe and free of defect.

Taking a few minutes now to peruse this collection of recalled items will ensure a safer and more enjoyable holiday season for you and yours.
